

Platelet Rich Plasma Therapy (PRP)

Platelet-Rich Plasma is an innovative and promising approach in regenerative medicine.

PRP is the concentration of your own body's platelets in a small amount of plasma.

This self-derived product possesses immense capabilities related to tissue regeneration.

Clinical data shows that PRP promotes tissue healing by releasing a large amount of growth factors from the platelets in the treated area.

Each growth factor has a unique role in stimulating biochemical pathways that promote skin repair.

Together, they create a synergistic effect for maximal regenerative results.

A small sample of blood is taken from your arm, exactly like having a routine blood test at your doctors. The blood is centrifuged, and ten minutes later, the PRP has been separated from the whole blood and is ready for use. Once on site, the growth factors and other regenerative molecules are released leading to collagen and elastin formation as well as cellular growth and skin remodelling, resulting in long lasting skin rejuvenation.

PRP is a safe and effective way to harness your body's own power to regenerate.

Acne Rosacea Treatment

Per session	£70.00
-------------	--------

Acne Rosacea is a condition that affects the skin both internally and externally. The surface of the skin becomes sensitive resulting in redness in the butterfly area of the face. In some advanced cases a blue/purple mottling can be seen and pustules can form. The condition can be further aggravated by eating hot spicy foods, drinking alcohol, smoking and exposure to intense heat.

There is no cure for this condition, but if you visit your GP he may prescribe a course of antibiotics which can be used in conjunction with our treatment. This involves using either a high frequency current or Laser which can effectively treat the Acne Rosacea to reduce the symptoms.

Several treatments will be required to improve the skin, this will vary from person to person according to severity of the condition.
